Easter Pet Safety Tips

🍫 Keep Easter candy out of reach

Chocolate and sugar-free candies can be toxic to pets. Store baskets, candy dishes, and treats where curious noses can't reach them.

🌷 Watch spring flowers and plants

Some Easter and springtime plants can cause stomach upset or other health concerns if chewed or ingested.

🧺 Keep Easter baskets pet-safe

Plastic grass, ribbons, cellophane, and small toys may look fun but can become choking hazards or cause intestinal blockages.

🥚 Clean up after egg hunts

Plastic eggs, candy wrappers, and hidden treats left behind can be dangerous if swallowed.

🍽️ Avoid sharing holiday meals

Ham, rich side dishes, desserts, and foods containing onions or garlic can upset your pet's stomach or be harmful.

🚪 Monitor guests and open doors

Family gatherings often mean increased foot traffic and more opportunities for pets to slip outside unnoticed. Secure doors and consider using gates.

🏷️ Verify ID tags and microchips

Before holiday celebrations begin, make sure your pet's identification and contact information are current.
