Valentine's Pet Safety Tips

🍫 Keep chocolate out of reach

Chocolate can be toxic to dogs and cats, even in small amounts. Store candy boxes and treats where pets can't access them.

🌹 Check flowers before bringing them home

Some plants and flowers can cause stomach upset or other health concerns if chewed. Keep arrangements out of reach of curious pets.

🎀 Watch ribbons, bows, and gift wrap

Ribbon, string, and decorative packaging may seem like toys but can cause dangerous intestinal blockages if swallowed.

🍬 Avoid sugar-free treats

Many sugar-free candies and baked goods contain xylitol, which is extremely toxic to dogs.

🕯️ Use caution with candles

Curious noses and wagging tails can accidentally knock over candles, leading to burns or fire risks.

🍽️ Keep romantic dinners pet-safe

Foods containing chocolate, onions, garlic, alcohol, or rich ingredients should never be shared with pets.

💕 Show love with pet-friendly treats and toys

The safest Valentine's gift for your pet is extra playtime, affection, or treats made specifically for them.
